GARRETT P.I.

In addition to having 13 other novels from which to produce sequel motion pictures, the Garrett P.I. franchise can spawn a merchandising bonanza including video games, toy lines and numerous digital opportunities!! http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Garrett_P.I.

Garrett P.I. is a classic detective story in an alternate fantasy world with twists, turns, action, adventure, and laughs following the exploits of human private investigator Garrett, in the fantasy land of TunFaire, a melting pot of different races, cultures, and fantastical creatures. Garrett, a handsome and charming ladies man, is a smart, witty and fun-loving character.

Compared to Earth, nothing is quite normal once Tunfaire is revealed – a beautiful and magical place filled with all sorts of beings from dragons, flying fairies, elves, humans, shapeshifters, sorcerers, unicorns and ogres.

We meet Garrett, while he is investigating a case with his wise cracking parrot sidekick, Mr. Big, as he locates a tomb filled with mummies. The mummies come to life and Garrett, after taking a priceless blood red jade from a mummy, accidentally sets the tomb on fire. Garrett and Mr. Big narrowly escape and fly away on Rexie, Garrett's dragon car.

From high above we see the whole city of Tunfaire, a sight to behold. On the ground are many different races and breeds-humans, elves, fairies, wizards, giants, ogres, lizard people, werewolves and the like-coexist. Unfortunately, the humans, since the last war between Karenta and Venageti, are considered the lowest class in the social strata of Tunfaire. Tunfaire is located in Karenta and ruled by the all powerful fierce shapeshifter sorceress, the Stormwarden.

Garrett's client, an Ogre, refuses to pay Garrett for locating the mummy tomb because he burned it down and throws Garrett and Mr. Big out of his office. Garrett returns to his home office empty handed.

We meet Dean his butler who takes care of his home and who stays with him even though Garrett owes Dean back wages for over a year! Garrett needs a paying client as his funds have gotten precariously low.

Garrett heads out to his favorite bar, The Joy House Club, run by Garrett's best friend, Morley, a half elf. This is the only place in TunFaire where human beings are considered "equal" to magical races. He chats with Commander Bremen from his old Marine days and they commiserate that life has not been good for humans since they lost the war.

Garrett also meets Amiranda Wu, a beautiful Chinese fairy who has come to offer him a job to investigate the kidnapping of the Stormwarden's children and offers him a deposit of 100 gold coins which Garrett cannot resist.

Garrett meets with the Stormwarden in her castle and accepts the assignment. She insists that Amiranda accompany him as she is a skilled martial artist expert in giggong flying.

Garrett, Mr. Big, Amiranda and Rexie set off on the adventure of a lifetime.

Along the way, they meet up with the witch, Huiling, who gives him 3 Jinnang in exchange for the blood red jade and tells him that he will know when to use each of the Jinnang.

Later, a wise and entertaining Taoist priest joins them and teaches them how to circumvent the many incredible magic obstacles thrown at them... and he teaches Garrett how to become a better investigator ...and a better man.

Garrett and his group find themselves in a whirlwind of twists and turns as Garrett unlocks the truth regarding the kidnappings. He uncovers a master plan by Commander Bremen to cause a war between the two countries. Garrett solves the mystery of the kidnappings, manages to thwart a war and help humans better their lives in Tunfaire.

Garrett returns home with Mr. Big and Rexie, now a hero for having helped humans reach a higher place in Tunfaire society. And now he is also a richer man having been well paid by the Stormwarden for solving the case and saving Tunfaire from entering into another war.

After having had an adventure that included investigations, mysteries, mysticism, magic, sorcery, battles, betrayals and romance, Garrett is ready for his next case. His office is full of prospective clients, a werewolf, a goblin, a giant, a mummy and an ogre all lined up waiting to ask him to take on their most urgent case!
